Volume XXXIV Santa Ana, California, Friday, September 26, 1958 No. 2

Bosworth, Woods Nab Leads In College Players' 'Male Animal'

"The Male Animal", hilarious comedy written by Thurber, Elliott and Nugent, is the current production of the College Players.

The lead will be handled by Barry Bosworth, a freshman drama major. Barry was the lead in "Around the World in Eighty Days" at Santa Ana High School last year.

The part of Mrs Turner, the professors' wife, will be played by Joan Woods, a freshman speech major. Mary Sullivan will fill the part of Professor Turner's sister-in-law, Patricia Stanley. As Michael Barnes, the editor, will be Larry Keith, while Gil Terry will play the ex-boyfriend, Joe Ferguson.

Directing the plays is Mrs. Betty Lee Dayton, drama instructor at the college.

Stage manager is Jim Cronin who also has a small part. The remainder of the cast includes Mary Jean Baird, Susan Larson, Dick Schroff, Del Federman, Mike Daughtry, Ila Patterson and Mike Robison.

BARRY BOSWORTH
Dramatic Lead

The play is staged around the life of a mid-western college professor, his wife and a sister-in-law who is rooming with him. The sister-in-law is going with the editor of the college literary magazine.

Things are going along fine until an ex-beau, also an All-American football player, decides to drop in for a few days. This unexpected visit complicates their lives and turns the household into an uproar.

The play will be given Oct. 16-18 in Phillips Hall. Admission is 25 cents with student body cards, 51 without. Season tickets are $3.

VENSTROM ANNOUNCES EL DON STAFF

Carl Venstrom, El Don and Del Ano advisor, along with this semester's managing editor, Maxine Harris, today announced all staff positions for the semester.

Andersen has received numerous awards for his writing and editing ability in Orange County besides having worked for the Orange Daily News as City Editor for four weeks and sports editor for one.

Another Santa Ana High School journalist, Judy Norton, received the position of Feature Editor. Norton was assistant feature editor during her last year of high school and was recipient of the Panhellenic scholarship.

Head photo man is Bob Schlice who worked on last year's Del Ano and is photo editor for the 1959 yearbook. He is assisted by Mike Reedy from Rancho Alamitos High, who is also circulation manager.

Miss Harris' editorship was announced last spring when she was feature editor of El Don and editor of the 1958 Tavern Post. Besides working as student editor on Sky Dunlap's news service she received awards for her feature writing and other writing awards in high school.

Returning veterans on the paper's staff are Earle Truax, all round reporter, Ken Esse as business manager and writer, and Dick Wyatt, reporter.

Capacity Crowd Hears Henley On 'Life Goals'

By Maxine Harris

"Face yourself—look in the mrror," Dr. W. Balentine Henley admonished the capacity crowd at the 10 a.m. convocation in Phillips Hall Wednesday.

"The thing you want out of life more than anything else is what you're going to get," he stated, "And readjusting life to fit your own life goals is imperative."

"Today's young people must be ready for whatever's ahead, and college will give them the quality of adjustment necessary to meet the future."

Upon stressing the importance of education in this progressive age he gestured towards the faculty with him on the stage and asked that teachers and administrators be given the prestige they are due.

Congratulations

He closed his speech by expressing faith in the young people of today and saying, "I believe in Tomorrow as well as those who it belongs to—Congratulations!"

Dr. Henley has an academic background in law, government and religion. He had been president since 1940 of the College of Osteopathic Physcians and Surgeons, has served for 12 years on the Board of Water and Power Commissioners of the City of Los Angeles and is an educational consultant to General Motors.

Speech Highlight

Dr. Henley's address was the highlight of the assembly at which the largest faculty in the history of Santa Ana College was presented to the student body. Dr. Henley and Dr. John E. Johnson, President of the college, headed the colorful academic procession of trustees and faculty which began and ended the program.

Prior to the introduction of the speaker, Dr. Johnson introduced the Board of Trustees as well as Oliver C. Lawson, Superintendent of Santa Ana City Schools.

SAC History

Dr. Johnson also gave a short talk on the history of the college with comparisons between the college at its origin in 1915 and the present campus. He stated that the curriculum has grown from 20 courses to over 300.

Student Body President Allyn "Bud" Miller voiced the thanks of the students to Dr. Henley and the faculty. According to him, this is one of the first junior colleges in California to present such an academic convocation although they are traditional in four-year colleges. Another rarity was the faculty arrayed in their full regalia consisting of caps, gowns and hoods.

Routines Underway, Outfits Due For Newly Elected Song, Yell Leaders

Making ready for the coming football season are yell leaders Dale Nix, Don Hall, Nancy Stebbins, and Gail Williams. Head song leader, Kay Carstensen, and new song leaders, Janice Bate, Della Kahn, and Barbara Newman, have been practicing at Kay's home.

This year the college will have four songleaders instead of the usual three due to the close ballot. Voting for the new pep squad took place in Cook Gym, Sept. 18. According to one of the upper classmen, there was a bigger-than-usual turnout for the tryouts.

Outfits have been discussed by the pep squad and have been decided upon. For the cheerleaders, the girls plan to wear charcoal bermuda skirts, red tights, and red, bulky knit sweaters.

The fellows will wear charcoal bermuda shorts, red bermuda socks, and also the red, bulky knit sweaters. It was discussed that there should be the "Don" name on the sweater, but the issue has not been decided yet.

The songleaders will be decked out in black jumpers lined with red. Across the front of the jumper will be "Dons" in red. The girls will wear red blouses, red socks, and the college beanie that may be bought at the bookstore.

The first trip for the new leaders will be to Taft for the game tomorrow.

EDITORIAL

HANDLE WITH CARE

Today is the deadline for filing candidacy petitions for freshman class offices. The primary election is Wednesday, followed by finals on Friday.

Fresh from last week's election of cheerleaders and song leaders, the sophomores among the student body remember still another election.

Last May's student body election was much more active than Santa Ana College had seen in the past few years. The voting average came very near the 1956 national average, and the campus was alive with the spirit of filling offices with the most capable persons.

Why the sudden success?

Interest in student politics was cultivated and hard work went into the planning and executing of each campaign. Candidates for office were introduced to the student body, who then made their choices.

Freshmen who entered Santa Ana College three short weeks ago now have their opportunity to further campus political activity. The six freshmen offices need capable people to fill them, and interested voters to choose the right candidates.

Freshmen also have a responsibility to the government of their school to vote in the forthcoming election. They owe to the rest of the student body six dependable and capable officers; they owe themselves a voice in their governing.

Here is your chance, freshmen—and your responsibility

Handle with care.

We Get Letters...

DEAR EDITOR:

What? Where? How come?

These are just a few of the comments heard every day by members of the traffic committee on the SAC campus as they try to alleviate the parking situation.

This year due to the tremendous increase in enrollment, the problem has come close to getting out of hand. In addition to the enrollment, the construction of many new buildings on the campus has taken some of the space that was formerly used for parking.

The traffic committee, composed of students and sanctioned by the ASB, is trying to reach a solution to this problem. No matter what decision is reached, it is going to take cooperation by all to accomplish a near perfect solution.

Some of the rules that must be observed for safetys sake are: no parking on the curves and in designated "no parking" areas; only one row of parallel parking along 17th street; no parking in the access roads, as it creates a fire hazard; no parking in paraplegic stalls; and last, but not least, no parking in the teachers' stalls.

There is a lot of parking space in the lot on the south side of the campus that is not being utilized. There are also parking spaces along Bristol Street and in the large Ralph's market lot that can be used in the mornings.

If these few rules are obeyed by everyone, the situation will become more tolerable as the year goes on.

— R.F.S.

OBSERVE YE STUDENTS — These young visitors on the Santa Ana campus, sitting on the grass entranced in their child's world are completely oblivious of the huge domed building behind them. Behind them stands the observatory of the college whch holds within its walls the insight to many new worlds, which the youngsters have probably never dreamed of. The observatory is used by those students enrolled in astronomy classes.

Largest Observatory of JC's Rests Here On Santa Ana College Campus

How many students know there is an observatory here at SAC? Well, there is, and it is one of the largest at any junor college in the U.S. The telescope is an eight-inch reflector and was donated to the school by Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bishop in 1940.

The observatory at the present is only open to the Astronomy classes because of crowded conditions; however, anybody particularly interested in viewing the celestial wonders through the telescope may do so and should contact Mr. Dave Hartman Astronomy teacher.

The classes at the present are viewing the structure of the moon with side trips to Jupiter and Saturn.

So far, much to the students regret, they have not sighted any flying saucers or extra-terrestial life; but they haven't given up yet.

On the nights when it is cloudy or the moon is too bright, slides and movies are shown pertaining to Astronomy and celestial phenomenon.

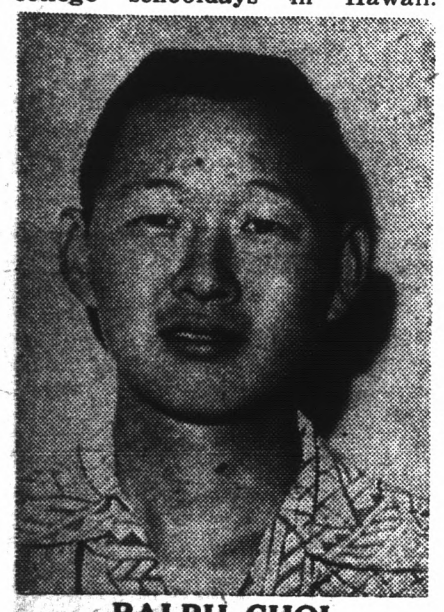

History-wise the observatory has led an interesting life. It was first erected in Lemon Heights (an interesting location) and was opened to Santa Ana College students in 1928. In 1940 it was donated to the college by Mr. Clyde Bishop and his wife. At that time it was transplanted to the Santa Ana High School campus. In 1946 it was again transplanted to where it now stands here at SAC.

The observatory is well taken care of by lab-assistant Mr. Walter Ferris who has been on the job over 30 years.

Ralph Choi Comes To The Don Campus To Study English

"Aloha," a word that serves the user a two fold purpose, it can mean hello or goodbye or, better yet, it can mean both. This saves a lot of breath when you can get all your greetings and goodbyes over with one word.

This information comes from Ralph Choi who spent his pre-college schooldays in Hawaii.

RALPH CHOI

Ralph, during his high school years, attended McKinley in Hawaii.

When asked if he noticed any difference in the schools, he stated, "Here in the United States I haven't seen any of the high schools, so I couldn't say." However he did mention that in Hawaii two years of ROTC is required.

Asked if he noted any other differences he mentioned the seasons. Here in the United States there are four different ones, while in Hawaii it is mild all the time with rain through fall and spring.

Ralph is majoring in English here at SAC and plans to go on to get a teaching degree. He hasn't decided whether he wants to teach here or in Hawaii.

One strange thing—he is from Hawaii—went to school in Hawaii—but does not speak Hawaiian.

Aloha!

Long Lines Await Slow Arrival Of Textbooks, Supplies

Long lines of students wait in the corridors in hopes of purchasing needed text books and other supplies only to discover that many of these books have already been sold out or are unavailable.

Dave Brown, formerly of the downtown Santa Ana Book Store and now working as manager of the canpus store asks that all be patient, for the books will arrive in due time.

"As long as the Teamsters truckers are still on strike all of the supplies must come through parcel post which entails a long and slow proceedure," stated Brown.

Assisting Brown is Mrs. Dorothea Stofer along with several SAC students.

Laboratory equipment, paper and other school supplies are being sold at the college book store.

NEW COURSES SPARK FALL CURRICULUM

Along with the increase of new students this semester, Santa Ana College has increased it's number of courses in some departments.

Among the most widely attended is the fire science courses which offer fire fighting techniques and procedures. Instructors for the classes will be Captains Thomas Cady of Long Beach and Joseph Tribbey of the Los Angeles Fire Department.

Interest in the art courses is bending towards the new ceramics and crafts classes with Mr. Peter Raven as instructor.

In the business classes, new subject matter in tax accounting and elements of supervision are being offered.

For pre-teaching majors, a course in music for classroom teachers has been started.

Basic psychology for supervisors is the newest class in the psychology curriculum.

Working it's was into the Drama Department, is the advanced stagecraft class to be held in Phillips Hall.

The only class that can be arranged with the instructor in reference to the time taken, is the new machine shop engineering class taught by Mr. Glen Larsen.

TED NICHOLS AND JIM VAIL AIM AT TOP HONORS FOR SAC

By Bob Matthews

Under the leadership of two new faculty members, the music department will be undergoing a process of building up this year.

Mr. Ted Nichols, coming to Santa Ana College from Inglewood High School, will head the instrumental part of the program. His main objective will be to get good sounding marching and concert bands.

Heading the choral and vocal groups will be Mr. James Vail, formerly of Westminster College in Salt Lake City, Utah.

"Thus far," states Mr. Vail, "the turnout for the vocal groups is small, but it is the enthusiastic kind of small. They are all ready, willing, and able."

Finishing the interview with "O-mi-gosh, I'm late for my class," Mr. Vail said to tell the students they are encouraged to get into the choral groups whether or not they are in the music courses.

Prior to teaching at Westminster, Mr. Vail conducted a 70-voice choral group at Midland College in Nebraska.

Mr. Nichols, who is also Minister of Music at Community Baptist Church in Manhattan Beach, is very much encouraged by the signs of growth as his students have told others of their plans for the bands and interested them enough to join.

"We can have one of the top bands in the conference if the students are willing to work towards that point," stated Mr. Nichols, who plans to take twenty-five members to the Taft game tomorrow.

Before coming west to Caliornia, Mr. Nichols was leader of the state championship 125-piece band from W.B. Ray High School in Corpus Christi, Texas. During his days in the service he was commanding officer of the U.S. Air Force Bandsmen Training School in New York.

Host Of Thoughts Taunt New Frosh

What the freshman thinks of his new college the first few days runs into a variety of thoughts and ideas.

His first day of tramping across the vast campus, so different from that of high school, he wonders if he'll ever be able to make it to his next class.

He has forgotten, of course, that here he has ten minutes between class, and not the usual five as at the old high school. Eventually it dawns on him after sitting in an empty classroom for five minutes, that there must be ten minutes between classes instead of five.

A more pleasant realization of the freshman is that here at college he is treated as an adult. He is called "Mr." or "Miss" and he swells with pride each time he hears this title put before his name.

Freshmen soon find that it isn't as much fun to cut class as it was in high school because here you are your own boss. There is always that first time of cutting class that comes as such a disappointment because it doesn't seem to get a rise out of anyone.

Just as one learns to study to work, and to play, one learns to be a freshman. It's an art in itself to be a good freshman and to be willing to learn by his own mistakes and by examples set by those before him.

CLUB NEWS

By Judy Norton

Officers for Young Republicans, a new group forming on campus this year, are Ken Esse, president; Jack Lenze, vice president; Barbara McIntosh, secretary; and Dave Kaech, treasurer.

The club's first meeting was held Sept. 17 at Ken Esse's house, where the officers were elected and the club progress for the year was discussed. Also the writing of the constitution was discussed at that time.

A constitution has now been completed and will be presented to the ICC Board next Tuesday for approval. Yesterday evening Ken Esse, Pam Edwards, Connie Rust, and Bob Walters met with the Santa Ana - Orange Young Republicans executive board for recognition of the new club here on campus.

Young Republicans is for the purpose of helping those students with Republican affiliations to know better the Republican platform here in California. Adviser for the club is Mr. Don Richter, chemistry instructor.

International Relations Club headed by president Atila Evrenos, is a club for everyone at Santa Ana College.

Everyone, no matter who he is is an international student. International Relations Club was formed with the main purpose of bringing closer together those people of the different lands.

Activities of the club include having guest speakers, getting to know the customs of different countries, comparing the various religions of the world, and sharing of each other's ideas on majors in college and opinions on various aspects of college life.

Meetings of the International Club are held every second and fourth Tuesday, 11:00 a.m., in A4. The first meeting was held last Tuesday when candidates for officers were submitted and a general run-down of the club's standards and activities was given by Atila Evrenos. Adviser, Mr. Paul Andres, was introduced.

Eight Lettermen To Open at Taft

Coach Dick Hill today named eight lettermen and three newcomers to the starting offensive lineup for Saturday night's football opener at Taft against the Taft JC Cougars.

Only one non-letterman, Robert Barnes of Freeport, Texas, will open in the starting line and only Pervis Atkins and Bob Rivas in the opening backfield are non-letter winners.

The Don starting lineup will read:

Ends: Bob Barnes and Vince Myers

Tackles: Art Johnson and Stan Perumean

Guards: Dave Okura and Pete Altamirano

Center: Don Noble

Quarterback: Jack Trumbo

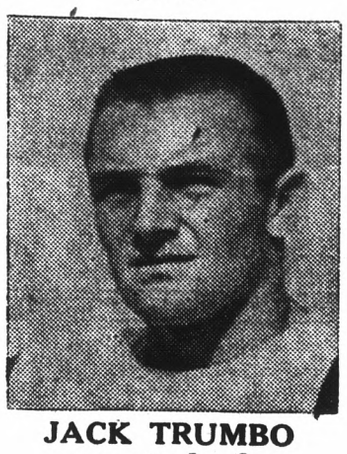

Halfbacks: Pervis Atkins and Robert Rivas

Fullback: Bob Gaiters

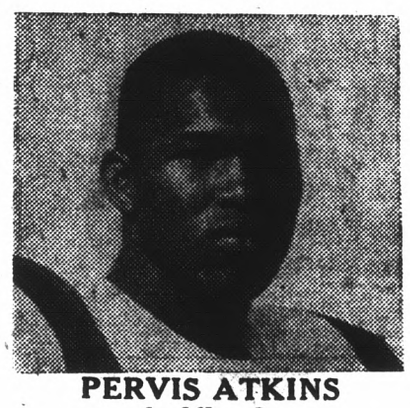

El Don's backfield is regarded by Coach Hill as one of the finest anywhere in JC football circles. He has said that any one of the four could probably make the grade and play for a four year school.

Behind the starters Hill's number two unit lines up with Eddie Williams and Jerry Nims at ends; Jewell Alexander and Ron Callihan, tackles; Steve Skinner and Bill Ferrell, guards; and Bill Garcia, center. In the second backfield is Santa Ana High passing wizard Bill Mott at quarterback; Nat Glover and Ron Johnson at halves and Fred Gallager at full.

A squad of forty will be issued uniforms and travel to Taft for the long-awaited opening of the 1958 season.

Dons Open '58 Grid Season; Face Taft Tomorrow

Santa Ana College's long-awaited 1958 football season gets under way tomorrow night when Coach Dick Hill takes his Dons to Taft to meet the once-beaten Cougars.

El Don, who sported a convincing 8-1-1 record last year, including the National Orange Show Bowl championship, is rated 14th in the nation in the Chapman All-American Grid Index and likely will be installed as favorites for the opener.

However, this will be the Cougars, who held East Los Angeles virtually even for three quarters before tiring and losing 19 to 0 last Friday. East LA is rated the top western junior college team and third in the nation.

Taft gave the ELAJC eleven a real battle for three quarters before the lack of depth on the Cougars part turned the tide for ELA.

This will be the second meeting for Santa Ana and Taft. Last year the Dons upset the Rose-Bowl-minded Cougars in the opener, 24 to 6. Hill conceded that the heavier Cougar line will give his frontmen a rough battle but warned that his backfield was speedier and the Dons may have more depth.

The Dons will bus to Taft Saturday forenoon and stay overnight in Bakersfield after the game. Then will come preparations for another toughie against Long Beach City College on Saturday, Oct. 4, in the Vikings' home lot.

Cross Country Season Opens Today; Dons Face Three in Peter's Canyon

With aspiring Charley Clark leading the way, the Dons Cross Country squad will host their first meet tonight against Orange Coast, Fullerton and San Bernardino Colleges, at Peters Canyon, near Irvine Lake.

Clark and Ron Larriau, of last season's S.A. and Mt. San Antonio track squads, heading the list as being the nation's top junior college distance men. Larriau, having graduated, leaves Clark to hold his own in the Eastern Conference.

Number two man on the SAC team is Gary Rees, who has been running ten mile road races during the summer. Coach John Ward feels that Rees will be one of the top runners in the Eastern Conference this season and will be one of the big assets for next spring's cinder squad.

Orange Coast College has one threat in Andre Rue, who ran the mile and two mile last season for the Pirates.

Fullerton Junior College will have Ron Tobin, veteran runner who place a third during the E.E. 880 race last spring, and will be pushing Clark this Fall.

With new material added to the returning runers, Don coaches forsee a strong Cross Country and track season this year.

17 Wrestlers Begin Workouts; Season's Still Four Months Off

By Ken Esse

Wrestling Coach George Farrier announced Thursday that over seventeen wrestlers are now in training for the oncoming grappling season which will get underway January 9th against Chaffey.

Returning lettermen to the mats are Bob Matthews, 154 pounds, Joe Keith holding down the 130 pound class and Joe Mitzel at 137.

These three wrestlers all made the final Southern California Meet and all placed in the top five.

Larry Keith, little brother of Joe, comes to Santa Ana from Pennsylvania where he held the State Championship title during his freshman year in high school. Coach Farrier feels that Larry will be a definite help to the squad this season.

Other mat-men adding their names to the roll call are, Gary Van Daldon, Mike Rodriquez, Jerry Ruse, Bill Buckland, Bill Rhanor, and Dick Bailey.

This will mark the first season that the State Championship tourney will be held at Bill Cook Gymnasium. Dates are March 13 and 14.

WAA Basketball Teams Chosen, Schedule Set

Basketball is underway for the Women's Athletic Association of Santa Ana College.

Their first game, scheduled with Compton on Oct. 1, will be played here. Miss Isabel Rellstab, W.A.A. adviser, feels this will be a good season for the girls.

The schedule for the girls' basketball season is as follows:

OCTOBER

1	Compton	here
8	Chaffey	here
22	Long Beach	here
29	Fullerton	there

NOVEMBER

10	Mt. SAC	here
12	Orange Coast	there
14	Sportsday	away

First and second teams have tentatively been chosen and a division between these two teams have been made into "X" and "Y" teams for practicing purposes. The main thing that the girls are working on right now is accuracy in shooting.

Workouts for the basketball squad are every Monday and Wednesday from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. In these workouts, the girls practice their various plays on the basketball court and learn to work with each other as a team.

Spotlight on Sports

By Don Andersen

It's hard for anyone to predict the outcome of any one game in the junior college football circles this year, so we have to admire Major Chapman, who picks weeks ahead of time the top JC football teams of the nation.

El Don has been given a preseason ranking of 14th in the country and fourth in the state behind East Los Angeles, Cerritos and Compton. The Falcons from Cerritos, the Cinderella team of the Southland last year, has probably moved down now following an untimely 28-27 loss to Art Gilmour and Riverside last week. The Tigers used the new two-point extra point to advantage, winning by picking up eight points in the last couple minutes of play . . . that means the Dons are probably ahead of Cerritos.

An outstanding performance tomorrow at Taft may put them even nearer to ELA, who ranked third in the nation in pre-season dope. Taft gave ELA a real battle for three quarters before finally bowing to the deep LA squad 19-0 last Friday.

* * *

The 1958 soccer opener is not too far in the distance anymore. Sporting new equipment and uniforms, the Dons open against the University of Redlands at Redlands Saturday morning, Oct. 4. Their first home contest is Oct. 18 at 7:30 p.m. against UCLA. (See complete schedule elsewhere on the page.) Player-coach Ertuvan Kanatsiz has announced that there's a possibility of having Herold Andersen former midwest soccer great as a team coach. Andersen has a background in soccer dating back to the 1920's and could probably give the Dons some tips that will lead to a league title.

New Vocal Group Seeks Name, Offers Cash Prize To Winner

Four Santa Ana College students, Eddie Wenzel, Earl Wenzel, Mike Daughtry and Benet Garci, will form the first male quartet in SAC history this year.

A prize of $5.00 will be awarded to the student submitting the best and most proper name for the quartet. In some way the name should co-ordinate with the tradition of Santa Ana College.

All entries are to be given to Mr. Vail in the music department, or given to any member of the quartet. Entries are to be in no later than Friday, Oct. 10th.

All four members of the group are graduates of Santa Ana High School, and are former members of the Esquires of SAHS.

The quartet will sing for different high schools in the county, and various business organizations' luncheons and formal dinners.

"The group will organize some of their own arrangements," added James Vail, music adviser.

ICC Opens Year Tuesday in A6

By Earle Truax

Inter Club Council will hold their first meeting of the year next Tuesday at 11 a.m. in room A6.

"The betterment of the Santa Ana College community through more perfectly coordinated extra-curricular club activities" is the purpose of the ICC as stated in the preamble of their constitution.

Tuesday's meeting will be used to form committees for the Homecoming Dance and to set up a committee to judge the clubs in their quest for the ICC trophy. This trophy is awarded by the ICC at the end of each semester to the club that contributes the most to the college in the way of service.

BURNS HOVEY

With the exception of the president, who is the vice president of the student body, Burns Hovey, all officers are elected by nominations from the floor. Other officers are secretary, treasurer and other posts deemed necessary by the president.

This semester brought on a major change in ICC policy. Formerly a club was represented at ICC meetings by two elected representatives. The new setup provides that the president of a club must attend ICC meetings along with his appointed or elected representative.

Inter Club Council meetings are of vital importance to all club members and officers because these meetings are the only place that representatives of all the clubs on campus can be brought together to work toward a common goal.

Executive Board Plans Retreat

Next Friday, Executive Board members leave for a two day retreat to be held at the Lazy-W Methodist Camp located 13 miles out of San Juan Capistrano on Ortega Highway.

Bud Miller, A.S.B. president, announced that representatives from all campus organizations have been invited in order to get a true representation from the students.

During this planning session, an effort will be made to solve and suggest a working program for this Fall semester. Ideas that have been suggested for discussion are, a larger student union, the parking problem on campus, the position of clubs on campus, the World University Service and welfare activities on campus. These are only a few of the many ideas that will be presented for discussion by campus leaders.

One method that will be used in producing different ideas for problems and improvements will be "brainstorming." This has been proven successful for large advertising firms and public relations personel with corporations and other business.

Faculty members that will be present are Dr. and Mrs. Beals, Bill Corser, Marie Pound and Gen Warren.
